Parallel Sessions 2

A. Contributed Symposium: Contemporary Research in Color Naming: Alternatives to the Received View

- A1. Don Dedrick (University of Guelph), Color Names and Their Explanation(s): Beyond the Received View
- A2. Kimberly Jameson (Institute for Mathematical Behavioral Sciences), Color Naming Universals and Their Cross-Cultural Variations
- A3. Debi Roberson, Color Categories: Evidence for the Relativity Hypothesis

B. Metaphysics of Mind (Chair: Jeff Poland (Rhode Island School of Design))

- B1. Thomas Polger (University of Cincinnati), Realization and the Metaphysics of Mind
- B2. Rob Wilson (University of Alberta), Essentialism in and on My Mind
- B3. Robert Van Gulik (Syracuse University), Jackson's Change of Mind: Representationalism, A Priorism, and the Knowledge Argument
- B4. Richard Brown (CUNY Grad. Center), Saying 'I Do' to Identity

C. Modularity and Cognitive Penetrability (Chair: Brian Keeley (Pitzer College))

- C1. Sara Berner & Philip Robbins (Washington University in St. Louis), Unifying Modulandia: Language As Domain Integrator
- C2. Robert McCauley & Joseph Heinrich (Emory University), The Diachronic Penetrability of the Visual Input System
- C3. Athanasios Raftopoulos (University of Cyprus), Spatial Attention and Cognitive Impenetrability of Perception

D. Learning and Inference (Chair: Elizabeth Robinson (Keele University, UK))

- D1. Eleni Ziari, Zoltan Dienes (University of Ioannina Greece), The Time Course of Implicit and Explicit Learning
- D2. Guy Longworth (Birkbeck College, UK), Comprehension and Inference
- D3. Rocio Garcia-Retamero (University of Granada, Spain), Ulrich Hoffrage, Anja Dieckmann (Max-Planck Institute, Berlin) Compound Cue Processing in a Logical AND Structure

E. 13 Moral Psychology (Chair: Melvin Woody)

- E1. Antti Kauppinen (University of Helsinki), Empirical Evidence in Moral Psychology
- E2. Dominic Murphy (Caltech), A Non-Kantian But Still Cognitive Explanation for Psychopathic Immorality
- E3. Kenneth Taylor (Stanford University), Where Norms Come From: A Naturalistic Approach

F. Sensation and Perception 2 (Chair: Karsten Stueber (University of Holy Cross))

- F1. Barbara Montero (City University of New York), How to Proprioceive Someone Else's Movement
- F2. Sara Forti & Glyn Humphreys (University of Birmingham), Representation of Unseen Objects in Visual Neglect: Resistance to Variations in Viewpoint and in Exemplar With the Same Name Presented
- F3. Andrea Scaramino (University of Pittsburgh), Blindfold and the Cognitive's Dilemma
- F4. Adina Roskies (Massachusetts Institute of Technology), A New Argument for Nonconceptual Content

G. Semantics (Chair: Alice ter Meulen (Cen. for Language & Cognition, Univ. of Groningen, NL))

- G1. Philippe Schlenker (UCLA & Institut Jean-Nicod, Paris), Ontological Symmetry in Language: Some Arguments and Speculations
- G2. Alice Ter Meulen (Center for Language & Cognition University of Groningen NL), Naturalizing Facts for Counterfactuals
- G3. Nellie Wieland (University of California), wanna, supposta, hafta: Hunches and Hypotheses on the Impermissibility
- G4. Daniel Weiskopf (University of South Florida), Complex Nominals and Compositional Semantics

5:00 pm

Coffee / Poster Session 1

5:45 pm

Parallel Sessions 3

A. Contributed Symposium: Beyond Reduction: What Can Philosophy of Mind Learn From (Recent) Philosophy of Science

- A1. John Bickle (University of Cincinnati), Explicating Reduction-In-Practice in 'Molecular and Cellular Cognition
- A2. Steven Horst (Wesleyan University), Law, Mind, and Freedom
- A3. William Bechtel, Reducing Psychology While Maintaining Its Autonomy Via Mechanistic Explanation

B. Mental Representation (Chair: Susan Schneider (Moravian College Bethlehem))

- B1. Paul Wilson (Texas State University-San Marcos), Descartes on the Nature of Ideas
- B2. Peter Slezak (University of New South Wales), Fodor's 'Guilty Passions': Representation as Hume's Ideas
- B3. Gottfried Vosgerau (Universität Tübingen), A Classification of Mental Representations

C. Cognitive Development (Chair: Sarah Beck (University of Birmingham))

- C1. Sid Kouider, Susan Carey, Justin Halberda et. al. (Service Hospitalier Frédéric Joliot, CEA), Infant's Understanding of the Singular-Plural Distinction
- C2. Christopher Gauker (University of Cincinnati), On the Evidence for Prelinguistic Concepts
- C3. Manuela Ungureanu (Okanagan University College), Distant Friends: Davidson's View of Belief and Meaning and the Empirical Study of Childhood Cognitive Development
- C4. Ingo Brigandt (University of Pittsburgh), Conceptual Role Semantics, the Theory Theory, and Conceptual Change

D. Consciousness and Qualia (Chair: Thomas Polger (University of Cincinnati))

- D1. John O'Dea (Australian National University), Qualia and the Distinction Between the Senses
- D2. Andrew Bailey (University of Guelph), Multiple Realizability, Qualia, and Natural Kinds
- D3. Steven Todd (University of Houston), Unmasking Multiple Drafts: A Case Study Demonstrating the Impact of Empirical Data on Theories of Consciousness
- D4. Steve Torrence (Middlesex University, UK), The Explanatory Gap of Consciousness and the Justificatory Gap of Ethics: Surface Parallels or Deep Interrelations

E. Self (Chair: Justin Fisher (University of Arizona))

- E1. Guy Pinku, Joseph Tzelgov (Ben Gurion University), The Self Qua Subject and Qua Object, and Explicit Knowledge
- E2. Dorothee Legrand (Université de Provence), The Sensor-Motor Roots of Pre-reflexive Consciousness
- E3. Manos Tsakiris (Institute of Cognitive Neuroscience, London), Experimenting with the Acting Self

F. Sensation and Perception 1 (Chair: Mazviita Chirumuata (Istituto Neuroscienze, Pisa))

- F1. Olivier Massin, Touch as a Sense of Force
- F2. Malika Auvray, Sylvain Hannequin, Charles Lenay, Kevin Oregan (Université René Descartes), Exteriorisation in Sensory Substitution
- F3. Bob Bermond (University of Amsterdam), The Emotional Feeling a Combination of Two Qualia: A Neurophilosophical Approach

G. Lexical Semantics and Pragmatics (Chair: Bernhard Schroeder (University of Bonn))

- G1. Paula Rubio Fernandez (Res. Centre for English & Applied Linguistics, Cambridge), The Mechanism of Suppression in Metaphor Interpretation and Disambiguation: The Question of Below-Baseline Performance
- G2. James Russell (Cambridge University, UK), How to Save Semantic Bootstrapping Theory From 'Assimilation' with a Non-Compositional Theory of Meaning
- G3. Fanny Lichtenstein (University of Barcelona), Considering the Literal-Metaphorical Distinction: The Troubles for a Cognitive and Pragmatic Approach

MONDAY 5

9:30 am

Invited Speaker
Michael Posner (Oregon), Consciousness and the Development of Self Regulation
 Chair: Barbara Von Eckardt (Rhode Island School of Design)

10:45 am

Coffee break

11:15 am

Invited Speaker
Anthony Marcel (Medical Research Council, Cognition and Brain Sciences Unit, Cambridge, UK), The Non-transparency of Consciousness
 Chair: Zoltan Dienes (Sussex)

12:30 am

Poster Session 2

1:30 pm

Lunch

3:00 pm

Parallel Sessions 4

A. Contributed Symposium: The Sense of Touch

- A1. Frederique A. Vignemont (Convenor)
- A2. Patrick Haggard, An Implicit Representation of One's Own Body in the Sense of Touch
- A3. Angelo Maravita, Multisensory, Intentional, and Cognitive Representation of Touch
- A4. Michael Martin (UCL, London), Sense of Touch: Touch and Bodily Awareness Philosophy

B. Theory of Mind 1 (Chair: Tim Kenyon (University of Waterloo Canada))

- B1. Leo Ferrer (Human-Oriented Technology Lab.), Explorations of the (Meta)Representational Status of Desire in the Theory-Theory of Mind Framework
- B2. John Barresi (Dalhousie University), The Neuroscience of Theory of Mind
- B3. Louise Roska-Hardy (Institut für deutsche Sprache Dortmund), The Concepts Involved in Reading Others' Minds
- B4. Daniel Hutto (University of Hertfordshire, England), Folk Psychology Without Tacit Theory

C. Concepts and Cognition (Chair: Jon Ringen (The University of Iowa USA))

- C1. Edouard Machery, Ron Mallon, Shaun Nichols, et. al. (Max Planck Institute for Human Development, Berlin) Semantics, Cross-Cultural Style
- C2. Nicholas Niles, Paul Bloom (Yale University), The Ship of Theseus: Percepts, Concepts, & Object Persistence
- C3. Andrzej Tarlowski (Uniwersytet Warszawski Poland), Cultural and Experiential Factors in the Structure of Naive Biology
- C4. Thomas van Cantfort, Don Fawkes, Claire Hewson (Fayetteville State University & Bolton Institute, UK), Are We Reductionists? - An Empirical Study

D. Perception and Attention (Chair: John Dunn)

- D1. Mike Beaton, Romi Nijhawan (University of Sussex), A New Psychophysical Model of the Flash-Lag Effect
- D2. Anne Aimola Davies (The Australian National University), Maintaining and Disengaging Attention in Unilateral Neglect

D3. Christian Giusti, Goffredo G. Pieroni, Laura Pieroni (University Of Udine Italy), Attention Trees
D4. Nicholas Bullock (Institut Jean Nicod CNRS EHESS ENS, Paris), Auditory and Crossmodal Attention for the Cognitive Access to Objects

E. Free Will and Agency (Chair: John O'Dea (Australian NU))

E1. David Rosenthal (City University of New York Graduate Center), Consciousness and Freedom
E2. Christian Miller, The Policy Based Approach to Identification WITHDRAWAL
E3. Peter Ross (CSU, Pomona), Empirical Constraints on the Problem of Free Will E4. Davor Bodrozic & Fabian Dorsch (University of Fribourg), The Impossibility of "Deciding to Believe"

F. Cognitive Structure (Chair: Kristin Andrews (York University, Toronto))

F1. Sanjay Chandrasekharan, Terry Stewart (Carleton University, Canada), Reactive Agents Learn to Add Epistemic Structures to the World
F2. Simone Cutini, Demis Basso, Patrizia Bisiacchi (University of Padova Italy), Visuo-Spatial Planning: A Computational Account
F3. Christopher Mole & Gabriel Love (Princeton University), The Real Definition of Memory

G. Linguistic Development (Chair: Felipe De Brigard (Tufts))

G1. Tomoko Matsui, Taeko Yamamoto, Peter McCagg (International Christian University Tokyo), How Language Can Influence Children's Understanding of Others as Epistemic Beings
G2. Nausicaa Pouscoulous (Institut Jean Nicod, Paris), Scalar Implicatures and Development
G3. Elizabeth Robinson, Martin Rowley (Keele University), Children's Understanding of Interpretation: Acknowledging That One Mind Can Hold Two Possibilities
G4. Sarah Beck, DJ Carroll, EJ Robinson, IA Apperly (University of Birmingham), Young Children's Thinking About Future and Counterfactual Events as Possibilities Which Could or Could Have Happened

5:00 pm

OUP Hosted Reception
 SPP Presidential Address - Frank Keil (Yale), The Bliss Of Ignorance
 Chair: Colin Allen (Texas A&M University)

6:30 - 7:30 pm

Business Meeting of each society

SPP: room A
ESPP: room B

7:30 pm

TUESDAY 6

9:30 am

Invited Symposium
OBJECTS IN THOUGHT AND PERCEPTION
 Convened by Jonathan Cohen (San Diego)
 Speakers: Roberto Casati (CNRS), Brian Scholl (Yale), Susanna Siegel (Harvard)

11:45 am

Coffee break

12:15 am

Invited Speaker
François Recanatani (Paris), Semantic flexibility
 Chair: Manuel Garcia-Carpintero (Barcelona)

1:30 pm

Lunch

3:00 pm

Parallel Sessions 5

A. Contributed Symposium: Causal Cognition: From Inference to Explanation

A1. Laura E. Schulz, Sight Unseen: Children's Inferences About Unobserved Causes
A2. Thomas L. Griffiths (Stanford University), Coincidence As Inference
A3. Tania Lombrozo (Harvard University), Teleological Explanation: Causal Constraints and Regularities (Winner of William James Prize)
A4. James Woodward, Interventions and the Psychology of Causal Inference* 330

B. Contributed Symposium: Self Representation and Human Self-Consciousness

B1. Albert Newen (Universität Tübingen), How to Naturalize Self-Consciousness
B2. Kai Vogeley, Overview of Relevant Empirical Studies in Neuroscience
B3. John Campbell, The First Person, Embodiment, and The Certainty That One Exists

C. Concepts (Chair: Ingo Brigandt (University of Pittsburgh))

C1. Andre Abath (University of Sheffield), Having a Concept: Two Bad Ideas and a Better One
C2. Fernando Martínez-Manrique & Agustín Vicente (Universidad de Granada, Spain), Conceptual Atomism and Lexical Concepts
C3. Malte Dahlgren (Universität Bonn & Freie Universität Berlin), The proper treatment of phrasal concepts
C4. Scott Brockett (King's College, London), Millikan's Theory of the Reference of Substance Concepts, and the 'Nesting' Problem

D. Problem Solving and Decision Making (Chair: Terry Stewart (Carleton University, Canada))

D1. Konstantinos Katsikopoulos, Annika Wallin (Max Planck Institute for Human Development), Do Gains and Losses Really Play a Role in the Framing Effect?
D2. Rocio Garcia-Retamero, Annika Wallin, Anja Dieckmann (University of Granada), Causal Content of Information and Decision Making
D3. Matt Twyman, Nigel Harvey, Clare Harries (University College London), Implicit and Explicit Trust in Advice for Self and Others
D4. Rachel Seabrook, Wakefield Carter (Oxford Brookes University), Expertise and Conceptual Transfer in Insight Problem Solving

E. Theory of Mind 2 (Chair: Leo Ferrés (Human-Oriented Technology Lab.))

E1. Kristin Andrews (York University), Chimpanzee Theory of Mind: Looking in All the Wrong Places?
E2. Kathleen W. Smith, Vinod Goel (York University Canada), Inductive and Deductive Reasoning about Theory of Mind is Characterized Differently from Reasoning about Physical Events Involving People: an fMRI Study
E3. Jon Ringen, Ed Wasserman (The University of Iowa, USA), Non-human Communication Concerning Private States: A Second Look
E4. Richard Griffin (Tufts University USA), Representing Intentions: What counts?

F. Meta-science (Chair: Heidi Lene Maibom (Carleton))

F1. John Collins (University of East Anglia, UK), On Not Knowing a Language
F2. Felipe De Brigard, Is Psychiatry a Meanwhile-Science?
F3. Milena Nuti (University College, London), Common Sense and Ontology
F4. Pieter Van den Eeden (Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam), The Philosophical Nature of Multilevel Propositions

G. Semantics and Thought (Chair: Chris Viger (University of Western Ontario))

G1. Panu Raatikainen (University of Helsinki), In Defense of Semantic Externalism
G2. Tim Kenyon (University of Waterloo Canada), Translation and Psychological Ascription
G3. Henry Jackman (York University Canada), Holism, Context, and Content
G4. Charles Travis (University of Northwestern), Attitudes Toward Attitudes

5:00 pm

Coffee / Poster Session 2

5:30 pm

Parallel Sessions 6

A. Contributed Symposium: Two-Factor Theory of Delusional Belief

- A1. Timothy Bayne and Elisabeth Pacherie, Experience-Based Accounts of Delusions: Explanation or Endorsement?
A2. Tony Stone (London South Bank University), Experience and Explanation in the Aetiology of Delusional Beliefs
A3. Martin Davies (Australian National University), Anosognosia and the Two-Factor Theory of Delusional Belief

B. Simulation and the Theory Theory (Chair: Barbara Von Eckardt (Rhode Island School of Design))

- B1. Heidi Maibom (Carleton University), The Presence of Others
B2. Justin Fisher (University of Arizona), Does Simulation Theory Really Involve Simulation? (Winner of the William James Prize)
B3. Julien Deonna & Bence Nanay (University Of Oxford), Identification, Attribution and the Simulation vs Theory-Theory Debate
B4. Anne Jaap Jacobson (University of Houston), Empathy, Concepts, and Consciousness

C. Categorization (Chair: Casey O'Callaghan (Bates College))

- C1. Jules Davidoff, Debi Roberson (Goldsmiths University of London), Preserved Thematic and Impaired Taxonomic Categorization
C2. Istvan Berkeley, Don Dedrick (University of Louisiana at Lafayette & University of Guelph), Finding Kinds and Modelling Abduction: New Implications for Old-Style Connectionist Networks
C3. Fei Xu (University of British Columbia), On Categorization and Individuation
C4. Nilufa Ali, Evan Heit (University of Warwick, UK), Domain Differences in Relations Between Causal Knowledge and Categorization

D. Content of Experience (Chair: Corey Wright (University of California , San Diego))

- D1. Brad Thompson (Southern Methodist University Dallas), Color Constancy and Russellian Representationalism
D2. Martine Nida-Rümelin & Achill Schnetzler (Université de Fribourg, Switzerland), Basic Color and Phenomenal Composition
D3. Richard Gray (Trinity College Dublin), Secondary Qualities and Double Determinability
D4. Hsi-wen, Daniel Liu (Providence University Taiwan), Non-Descriptive Nature of Dynamic Content

E. Davidson and Psychology (Chair: Louise Roeska-Hardy)

- E1. Meredith Plug (King's College London), Does the Existence of Verbally Competent Autistic Children Threaten Donald Davidson's Philosophy of Language?
E2. Oron Shagrir (The Hebrew University Israel), Anomalism and Supervenience
E3. Steven Gross (University of Pennsylvania), Who Needs a Meaning Theory?

F. Explanation and Behavior (Chair: Mark Couch (Columbia University))

- F1. Robrecht Vanderbeeken (Ghent University), Can Intentional and Functional Explanations of Actions Coexist?
F2. Jose E. Burgos, Realism About Behavior
F3. Petter Johansson, Lars Hall, Andreas Olsson (Lund University Cognitive Science Sweden), From Change Blindness to Choice Blindness
F4. Juan Jose Acero & Alberto Morales (Universidad de Granada), The Problem of Categorization in the Cognitive Neuroscience of Social Behavior

G. Modeling Language Use (Chair: Nicholas Shea)

- G1. Francisco Calvo Garzón (Universidad de Murcia), Hybridity, Modularity and Non-Classical Connectionist Natural Language Parsers
G2. Michael Klein, Kenji Doya (ATR Computational Neuroscience Laboratories), Understanding Speaker's Meaning - A Neuroscientific Approach
G3. Bernhard Schröder (University of Bonn, Germany), The Artificial Evolution of Communicating Agents
